Joe Glyda is a Commercial Photographer specializing in food products and aviation for 45 years. He has worked as an employee for 36 years and has had a freelance business for 34 years. He is also a part of ASP and Camera Craftsman of America. He has taught at Texas School of Professional Photography, Image Explorations in Canada, West Coast School of Photography, PPA conventions and Photoshop World. Joe's specialty is commercial photography, however he was "involved" in the portrait photography business for 10 years and can bring some insight to that sector as well.

He specializes in high school seniors & families. He also does work for schools, non-profits, and businesses, including the Oklahoma City National Memorial, OU Med, Bolt Construction and many more. What can you expect from a day with Dawn Muncy? Lots of fun and lots of learning. Dawn has been a professional photographer in her studio in Downtown Enid Oklahoma for 20 years. She is the owner, head photographer, studio manager, marketing director, creative director, chief financial officer, chief retoucher and studio toilet cleaner. Dawn has also been participating in image competition for 16 years and has achieved her Master Photographer and Master Artist designations as well as being a PPA approved affiliate juror since 2018. So you tell her what you want to know and she'll do her best to excel in that area. Dawn has extensive training in lighting and off camera flash but her cleaning skills aren't as solid so I'd stick to photography and/or the business of photography when choosing what you'd like to learn. If you would like Dawn will be happy to go to you so that you can learn with your own equipment in your own environment rather than having to translate the info to your own equipment later. You are also welcome to come to her studio if you prefer. This is a great opportunity for one on one, hands on, in person learning. Here's what people are saying about Dawn Muncy
